Members enjoy fun evening at annual red and white gala

After a tedious work week filled with the hustle and bustle of business, a crowd gathered recently inside a building decorated spectacularly in red and white.

As you walked through the doors, there was an anticipation that something special was about to happen on this rainy and somewhat dismal night. It was the Antioch Baptist Church North annual Red and White Gala.

It has long been the belief of the Pastor Dr. Cameron Madison Alexander, of Antioch Baptist Church North, that believers in the Lord Jesus Christ should have a place or places to go to enjoy and have fun without the influence of the sin sick world. As pastor Alexander occasionally says; "just because you are a Christian doesn't mean that you can't have fun. We should enjoy life and enjoy it in abundance. There is nothing wrong with having fun."

On Feb. 22, the Women's vision of Antioch Baptist Church North sponsored event that was not only fun but also members took the opportunity to fellowship by participating in such things a birth month game and dancing. One of the many highlights of this glorious event was the dancing. The music was a montage of classics from the renaissance era in African-American music. If you can imagine members of all different ages taking to the dance floor and reminiscing such dances as the

Dr. Margaret Weaver: "Silence is not an option"

There's a popular saying about silence. It's said to be golden.

But while silence is golden, there are times, however, when silence is not an option, Dr. Margaret Weaver told Antioch members attending a church-wide prayer breakfast recently.

Weaver said that in some situations silence is a virtue, that without silence some marriages would have ended in divorce, friends would have parted company and business partnerships would have been severed.

There are other times, however, when silence leads to chaos and confusion, mayhem and madness, destruction and even death.

"Black people suffered through an institution called slavery," she said. "Jews endured the Holocaust because too many were too silent for too long."

Weaver spoke over enthusiastic applause and "amens" from men and women who'd earlier feasted on physical food but

Ushers: Doorkeepers in the house of God

They're usually the first people you meet when you come inside Antioch.

They also say their ministry is the most fun.

They're the ushers – the smiling, welcoming faces that greet members and visitors, leading you to your pew.

And they can use some more folks in their ministry.

The ministry usually meets on the second Thursday of each month at 6:30 p.m. The training is done on the third and fourth Mondays at 6:30 p.m.

A typical meeting is full of laughter, Scripture lessons and some good-natured teasing.

"It's a calling that the Lord has put on the individual to serve and to be a help to others,"

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

Dear Christian Friends:

Welcome to the first issue of our newly-revised newsletter under its new name, The Church at Antioch.

We are very excited about the implementation of our newsletter as it will serve to inform, enrich, and inspire us as Christians of Antioch. As we peruse our calendar for Vision 2008, there are a great number of exciting and dynamic events ahead of us. The revitalization of our newsletter is one of those milestones.

Another high point in our growth is the Birth Month Fellowships where more and more members are becoming involved in all of the excitement that Vision 2008 holds for us. Involvement in the Birth Month Fellowships allows each member an opportunity to grow stronger in his relationship with Christ and with fellow Christians. Therefore, I encourage you to seek out your Birth Month and get involved.

Still another landmark is our 10 & 10 Free Will Offering to support improvements to the church facilities. This weekly offering of $10 is given above and beyond our regular tithes and offerings. Your continuous giving is a financial encouragement to us and makes possible improvements to our worship facilities without undermining any of our ongoing ministries, programs or outreach ministries.

Throughout the year, we will note through celebration the many milestones that God has blessed us to achieve, all intended to strengthen our fellowship while bringing others into the ark of safety. This is our mission; this is our charge.

The Church at Antioch will keep us informed of our blessings, enrich our knowledge and understanding of events that are characteristically Antioch, and inspire us to continue to work unceasingly to achieve the goals that we have established for ourselves in Vision 2008. Attainment of these goals can only result in a greater, stronger, more knowledgeable membership committed to doing God's work.

Our thanks go out to Sis. Barbara J. Alexander and the Women's Division for energizing our newsletter and to Sis. Gracie Staples and others for assuming the leadership responsibilities. Let us pray for their continued spiritual guidance as they move forward in revitalizing our publication.

I encourage you to support our newsletter by any means your gifts and talents dictate. By so doing, you will enhance our ability to communicate to all God's blessings upon the humble butcher-shop congregation that grew to become this great fellowship which we call Antioch.

And the disciples were called Christians first in Antioch. Acts 11:26

Thank you for your stewardship. May God continue to bless you and keep you forever in His care.

Yours in God's service,

Rev. C. M. Alexander, Pastor

Helping meet the needs of those at Macedonia

In February 2003, Antioch implemented plans to begin a foreign missions ministry, the brainchild of its pastor, the Rev. Cameron Madison Alexander.

A series of recruitment events and organizational meetings were held and soon after A.I.M.M., Antioch's International Macedonian Missionaries, was born.

"Under Rev. Alexander's leadership and support, an S.O.S. went out throughout the church to all members, auxiliaries, and ministries," said one of the ministry leaders, Sis. Linda Harper.

The groups were asked to make specific donations for the Midwife and HIV Kits for Gabon in West Africa and work began immediately, Harper said.

At the end of one year, 150 kits were completed, she said. Seventy-five of those were HIV/AIDS medical kits that included toothpaste, combs, nail clippers, Band-Aids and multi-vitamins. Seventy-five other kits were prepared for midwives delivering newborns in remote areas of Gabon. Those included razor blades, soap, newborn stocking caps, receiving blankets and latex gloves.

"It was an awesome experience," Harper said. "We're deeply grateful to Pastor Alexander for this opportunity to serve in such a much needed capacity."

Harper said the Ogouee Foundation, Gabon representatives based in Norcross, asked the church for help and provided the instructions and information on all the necessary materials.

Last summer, Harper said, eight members of AIMM completed a missions course entitled, "The Acts 1:8 Challenge: Empowering the Church to be on Mission" and were certified as Macedonian Missionaries. They received certificates from Antioch's School of the Bible.

In addition to preparing the kits, Harper said, AIMM members have also volunteered their services to sort medical supplies for shipment to developing countries; hosted several international visitors who were a part of the State International Visitors Program; and helped coordinate the Nigerian Trade Mission, sponsored by the American Nigerian International Chamber of Commerce.

The ministry, Harper said, is based on Acts 16:9: "And a vision appeared to Paul in the night: a man of Macedonia was standing beseeching him and saying, 'Come over to Macedonia and help us.'"

The ministry's mission is to mobilize the children of God toward developing resources to help impoverished cultures who issue the Macedonian call.

Women’s ministry continuing the vision in 2008

*Where there is no vision, the people perish, but he that keepeth the law, happy is he.
Proverbs 29:18*

Historical notation: Vision 2007 is a church-wide spiritual development celebration given by God to Pastor Alexander to enhance our church program which is Bible-based, Christ-centered, Holy Spirit-led, and Mission-bound and supported by our four pillars, Fellowship, Evangelism, Doctrine, and Stewardship. The demonstration activities for each pillar will be presented by the four divisions: Women’s Division (January – March), the Men’s Division (April – June), the Youth Division (July – September), and the Family Division (October – December), thereby involving the total membership in Vision 2007. Training will be provided to the Divisions individually but at the same time period.

The Women’s Division, under the very capable and impressive leadership of Sister Barbara Alexander, embraced Vision 2007 in the activities coordinated and methods used to engage women of ABCN in designing, planning, and implementing church activities.

- At each meeting new attendees were asked to introduce themselves and commit to supporting more than one activity in the 1st quarter.
- To facilitate fellowship and stewardship, a directory of members was distributed and maintained to facilitate communication among members.
- Fellowship Leaders were assigned to each event with Women’s Division members serving on the committees.
- During the meeting, all women in the Division were invited to respond to event committees on proposed activities. These ideas were incorporated into their program planning.

- Proposals for each activity were reviewed at meetings for further comment by the Division before they were submitted to the Pastor.

As we reflect upon the first quarter activities (Prayer Meetings, Evangelistic Task Force training classes, School of the Bible presentations, Black History Observances, Family Talent Show, and other activities) we are mindful of the wide variety of activities and experiences that enhanced our spiritual growth and maturity so that our character and our practices as individuals and as a Church Family were even more reflective of Jesus Christ. From the comments that were received and all that was witnessed, we can be assured that learning and enhanced knowledge of the Word were evident at all of the activities.

The Women’s Division is thankful to God for the opportunity to have made an impact on our fellowship in 2007:

- Fourteen persons were trained by ETF to become effective witnesses. Six have become members of SWAT (Saints With a Testimony). Eleven (11) are in the process of completing their final week. A broader number of ABCN Members received an overview of ETF and its importance. (DOCTRINE, EVANGELISM)

- A 12 percent increase in tithing over 1st Quarter 2006.
- Over 120 women participated in church event planning and implementation for the first time. (STEWARDSHIP)
- New church events for families were developed. (FELLOWSHIP)
- Re-energizing of the fellowship among Antioch women. (FELLOWSHIP)

As noted, from the beginning of Vision 2007 to the present, the women of Antioch have shared their God-given gifts and talents in the production of extraordinary events which were not only entertaining, but culturally insightful, and spiritually rewarding. Their commitment and uncompromising love for God and their church is manifested through their dedication to the Vision objectives and their resourcefulness in meeting them.

As 2008 began to unfold, Sis. Alexander continued with the same energy, enthusiasm, and commitment, convening weekly meetings on each Tuesday at 6:30 p.m.

Increasing fellowship opportunities while strengthening the fellowship has become the major thrust of Vision 2008. Towards this end, the Women’s Division led the implementation of the Birth Month Fellowships to bring more members together in fellowship and service, to plan more fellowship activities, and to encourage membership support of 10&10, our church campus improvement initiative.

SPORTS MINISTRY UPDATE

Baseball Leagues

The Sports Ministry, under the leadership of Bro. Fred DeVaughn, recently held its annual registration for the 2008 Spring/Summer Antioch Baseball League.

All games are scheduled to be held at The Villages at Carver Family YMCA. This is a 12 Game, 1 game/week season, starting mid April 2008. All games will be played at Carver YMCA fields, Thursday, Friday or Saturday. Practices will take place at the 590 Building fields.

The cost was $125.00 per player. This fee included the uniform: Hat/Cap (panthers), Pants (gray), Jersey (maroon with Antioch North in large letters), socks (maroon) and a belt. The colors are Maroon & White with Antioch North on the front and the child's name on the back. Each player is responsible for his shoes (black) and baseball glove. This fee also included family membership at the YMCA.

Track & Field Club: Getting Fit to Function at the Peachtree Road Race

Antioch Baptist Church North is forming a Track Club for persons dedicated to promoting the art of running. From weekly training to special educational programs, the Sports Ministry is taking the initiative to prepare interested persons for running a 10K. Weekly training will be provided by professionals on Mondays and Thursday from 6:30 – 8:00 p.m. in proximity of the 590 building.

Ultimately, the club hopes to compete in the annual "The Atlanta Journal-Constitution Peachtree Road Race ~ JULY 4, 2008. Applications are published in The Atlanta Journal-Constitution each year on the third Sunday of March. The entry form for 2008 will be published in The Atlanta Journal-Constitution newspaper on March 16, 2008. Get your applications, get fit, and get ready . . . to RUN.

Please see Bro. Michael Williams or Bro. Fred DeVaughn after both services for more information.

Single Christians walking and eating their way to a healthier life

The statistics are startling:

African-American men are twice as likely to be diagnosed with prostate cancer as white men.

AIDS is now the leading cause of death among black women aged 25-34

And approximately 2.7 million or 11.4 percent of all African-Americans aged 20 years or older have diabetes, which puts them at greater risk for heart disease, blindness, amputation and kidney failure.

For years, Angela Davis had heard those statistics but it wasn't until she began volunteering a few years ago with Antioch's Culinary Ministry that she began to put faces with them.

"One of the things I notice was the size of the people coming through the line," said Davis.

But knowing the benefits of good health, Davis said, she couldn't help but want to share that with her brothers and sisters in Christ.

"Culturally we buy into the ideology that bigger is better," said Davis. "A healthy big is fine but we don't have to have high blood pressure, high cholesterol and diabetes."

And so Davis, a coordinator of Single Christians of Antioch North (SCAN), decided it was time to send out a call to action.

Thus began "Reviving the Temple 2008," a year-long, church-wide health initiative to improve members' physical, mental and spiritual health.

SCAN began last month hosting workshops on among other things, HIV/AIDS, heart health and exercise.

In addition to workshops, Davis said, members may join Antioch's Bigger Loser contest, which tracks overall weight loss and body fat reduction. The biggest loser male and female winner will each receive $250 and other prizes at the culminating event in December.

The SCAN ministry is designed to promote, celebrate and honor the blessings in singleness. "We are about our fathers business," said Davis, "and encourage all single Christians to work towards a deeper personal relationship with our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ."

SCAN meets at 6:30 p.m. on the second Tuesday of every month in Fellowship Hall.

Davis heads the group with Anika Clarkson, Jermaine Fitzpatrick and Sterling Clay.

For more information or to join SCAN, contact Davis at ladyadavis@aol.com or call the church office: 404-688-5679.

huckabuck, the swing, the bop, the stroll (line dance), hully gully, peppermint twist, mashed potato, the pony, swim, bunny hop and of course the electric slide; all of which except the electric slide were favorites in places like the Cotton Club, the Savoy Ballroom and the Apollo Theater.

Because of the tremendous job done by the decorating committee for this event, the 590 building and the crowd inside felt as if they were transcended back in time to the 1950s and early 1960s. Some of our older members showed that they still have some pep in their step by dancing the night away. In addition to all of the great music and dancing, the member's taste buds were treated to a variety of delectable treats such as smoked Alaskan salmon, delicious crab cakes, pasta salad, chicken on a stick and chicken salad, meat balls, succulent vegetable medley and deserts that left your taste buds wanting more.

The night was capped off by a series of concluding events such as picture taking, some tremendously motivating comments from the pastor's wife Mrs. Barbara J. Alexander, a final last dance from the pastor and his wife alone on the floor, and last but not never least Pastor Cameron Madison Alexander's inspirational comments that seem to always be exactly what we all needed to hear. Antioch Baptist Church North is Bible-Based, Christ-Centered, Holy Spirit-Led and Mission-Bound. The church is indeed all about doing the work of God in the community surrounding its location on the corner of Northside Drive and Kennedy Street and throughout the city of Atlanta and across the world. However, there is always time set aside for fun.

The Red and White Ball is just one of several special events sponsored by the membership of Antioch. If you want to find out more about what's happening at Antioch, you are always welcome to visit 540 Kennedy Street on Sunday morning, Wednesday night or one of the daily noon day services.

ADDED MEMBERS

Thirty-eight members received the right hand of fellowship during the past two months. In January, 13 were fellowshipped, including five members who were baptized. In February, 23 members were added. Of those, 10 were baptized. They are:

“Render ye therefore unto George Bush the things... “Please forgive me. That should be “Render ye therefore unto Caesar those things which are Caesar’s, and unto God those things which are God’s.”

I looked at a tax table to see just how much Caesar wants from us and found that he wants anywhere from 15% of your income up to 40% of your income, depending on how much you make. Now one would be inclined to think that those on the upper end of the income scale would pay the 40% and those on the lower end of the scale would pay the 40%. This is not the case, for if you make only $5 in a year’s time, Caesar wants two of them, which is 40%. However, if you make $50,000 in a year’s time, Caesar only wants about 25%.

Caesar says, “I’m going to go ahead and take mine up front. But I want you to have faith in me, because if I take too much, at the end of the year I’ll give you a little bit of it back.”

God says, “I’m going to give you a choice on whether to pay your tithes or not based upon your faith. You can’t give too much, because if you do what I ask, I won’t just give you a little bit back, I’ll give you so much back you won’t have room to receive it.”

Caesar says, “Have faith in me, and I’ll build you a Stealth bomber.”

God says, “Have faith in me, and you won’t need a Stealth bomber. Just go to Jericho, march around the walls a few times, and I’ll take care of the rest.”

Caesar says “Have faith in me, and when you get into your keen ages, I’ll give you a little pocket change, and I’ll call it Social Security, even though it isn’t very secure.”

Jesus says, “Have faith in me, and I’ll show you security. I’ll feed you when you get hungry, put clothes on your back if you’re naked, and if you get a little thirsty, I’ll wet your whistle for you.”

Caesar says, “Have faith in me, and I’ll build highways which will allow you to travel all over these United States.”

God says, “Have faith in me, and I’ll allow you to travel the King’s highway to heaven.”

Caesar says, “Have faith in me, and I’ll build a housing development and allow you to rent an apartment there, and it can be your home as long as you pay your rent.”

Jesus says, “Have faith in me, and I’ll build you a mansion, and it can be your eternal home”

Caesar says, “Have faith in me, and I’ll represent you in Washington, D.C.”

Jesus says, “Have faith in me, and I’ll represent you before My Father.”

Now don’t get me wrong, I’m not suggesting that you not give Caesar his, because then your home here on Earth may be in a jail cell. What I am suggesting is that you render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar’s, and unto God the things which are God’s, but be ever mindful that the Earth is the Lord’s, and the fullness thereof.

Prayers of the righteous working both ways

They call to offer encouragement to members sick and shut-in. But more often than not, they are encouraged.

“We leave on a spiritual high,” said Sis. Redelle Doyle, leader of Antioch’s Care and Comfort Ministry, formally the sick and shut-in.

“Hearing your brother or sister stress over and over how grateful they are that someone took the time to call and pray or to hear them say your call is right on time are beautiful sounds in my ears.”

Sis. Doyle, who has served with the ministry for nine years, said callers contacted some 80 members last month to pray with them.

Quoting James 5:15, she said, “the prayer of faith shall save the sick; and the Lord shall raise him up.”

That has proven true, Sis. Doyle said, not only for the sick but also for those who gather each week at the AUMI building to pray on their behalf.

“There is one praying here and another over there and more praying going on in the back,” she said. “All are the fervent prayers from the righteous going up to one Lord, one Savior and one Master, Jesus Christ.”

were clearly ready to receive a helping of spiritual food from the Book of Esther.

Dr. Weaver, daughter of the late Rev. George Weaver and Mrs. Mae Weaver, is a licensed psychologist in private practice at Keystone, a Christian counseling center in Stockbridge.

At Antioch, she is director of the Evangelistic Task Force, a program designed to train Christians to become more effective witnesses.

“Many times we think we can find safety in silence,” said Weaver. “But evil has a way of knocking at the door of the silent one.”

Such was the case in the Book of Esther when Haman, angry because Mordecai refused to bow to him, asked the king to destroy all Jews.

But the story didn’t end there, Dr. Weaver told a rapt audience.

Chapter six, she said, begins: “And the king could not sleep.”

If the king’s insomnia seemed irrelevant, Weaver said, think of it as a God-induced sleeplessness.

Unable to sleep, the king asked to see a history book in which he read about Mordecai having foiled an assassination attempt against the king.

Wanting to award Mordecai, the King summoned Haman to ask how to honor such a man.

Thinking the king wanted to honor him, Haman was flooded with ideas: a royal robe, royal horse, a parade through the city square.

“In other words,” Dr. Weaver said,

“while your enemy is trying to curse you, God is planning to bless you.”

Haman then was forced to march through the city square talking about Mordecai. And the gallows he had constructed for Mordecai, ended up being his final resting place.

“Don’t worry if you’re in the background and think that God can’t use you,” Dr. Weaver told the breakfast crowd. “Think of Mordecai.”

She said: “Yes, it’s true you have the right to remain silent. Silence is an option.”

But when she thinks of the goodness of God, all he’s done on her behalf, that Jesus got up from the grave so she could have eternal life, Dr. Weaver said, silence is not an option.

Women's retreat scheduled for April

The spring women's retreat is shaping up to be another fun spirit-filled event.

Sis. Bivian Woody, president of 1st Timothy, Antioch's womens ministry, said that while each retreat is different, every woman is guaranteed to leave with a renewed spirit.

"You have fun, you make new friends and most importantly you get a prayer partner," she said.

Organizers expect some 50 women at the two-day gathering beginning April 19 at the Simpsonwood Retreat Center in Norcross.

Women interested in attending, may register in the church lobby beginning March 2.

The cost for single occupancy is $140; $100 for double occupancy per person; and $80 per person for quad occupancy.

Charges include all meals, lodging and transportation.

said Sis. Brenda Eason, one of the ministry's coordinators. "We feel these are Christian servants that can be of service."

The ministry has about 130 members on the rolls, but just 25 men. Bro. McKenzie Thomas, the ministry's other coordinator, said being an usher is a great way for Antioch's men to meet other members and to serve.

"I've had a chance to bond with the men and the ladies," he said. "It's almost like a family reunion."

The ministry's biggest event is coming soon. Between March 27 and 29, the General Missionary Baptist Convention of Georgia Ministry of Ushers Annual Conference is scheduled in Jekyll Island. The workshops include evangelism, the art of unselfish living and defending the faith. There are two new ministries this year – health and Saints With A Testimony. Meanwhile, the ministry is heeding the Pastor's 3 Deep call by creating a group of youth ushers (ages 9-17) and young adults (ages 18-26) to serve as ushers.

Because people grow old and leave, Sis. Eason said it is important to train younger ushers to take their place.

The ministry's monthly meetings typically end with the group joining in prayer, holding each other's pinky finger in a sign of unity. The pinky is the strongest finger, Sis. Eason explained.

"It's tougher to let go when you're holding someone's pinky," Sister Eason said. "We know we're there in the body of Christian love."
